- Trained in EMDR
- Demonstrated competency in at least one additional therapy, including but not limited to IFS, EFT, Somatic Experiencing, and/or DBT

TO APPLY

Submit your resume and a cover letter highlighting your ability to meet position requirements, how you can be an asset to a growing group practice, and why you're a good fit for our culture and mission to info@willowcounseling.org.

Willow Counseling holds high standards. We want to work with people who will do their job and do it well, people who are excited to be a part of something bigger than themselves, and people who can hold onto hope. We believe a group of committed, passionate people can do more for our community than a lone individual. Together we can bring hope and healing to our community.

MISSION

Willow Counseling, PLLC exists to provide quality trauma-informed mental health counseling to the Nashville community, recognizing the interconnectedness of our emotional, spiritual and physical selves.

VALUES

Clients deserve QUALITY care, work that is evidence-based, backed by research, and up-to-date.

We recognize that you are made up of intimately connected parts and therefore a HOLISTIC and inclusive approach is most effective. An approach that includes mind, body, spirit and recognizes the impact of our social, physical, mental, emotional and spiritual selves.

One size does not fit all. CREATIVITY is required to adapt research-backed strategies to the unique individual.

We provide serious work for serious issues but humor and the power of LAUGHTER are not to be underestimated.

We are INCLUSIVE. We will help any race, any religion, any sexual orientation, any gender.

WISDOM OF THE WILLOW -BE ROOTED. BE STRONG. BE FREE.-

The imagery of the willow tree represents the hope we have for all Willow Counseling clients, and that is to be rooted, to be strong, and to be free. Willow trees have incredibly strong, tenacious roots. Imagine all of us having the strength and determination to dig deep and hold tight to what really matters. That strength doesn't stay rooted and hidden underground though; the trunk and branches grow up and out from it. It's not noticeable to everyone at first glance, but the strength of the willow tree is the core from which everything blooms and grows. And from that rootedness, from that strength, comes the freedom of the tree. There's no rigidity, fear, or shame. Instead, the leaves dance and sway in the breeze, floating freely in the air, with a sense of lightheartedness and peace even. That's the hope for those who will walk through our doors. That Willow Counseling will be a place that is safe and comforting, where one can recognize their rootedness, grow in strength, and learn how to live free.
